

Map Annotations

Strathdon LTP Map 4: Key Features and Issues (1 of 2)

- Scheduled Monument: Tulloch cupmarks is immediately adjacent to our landholding.
- Water pipelines and several private water supply points have been identified in the LTP area. There is potential for more water supply points to be present.
- Red Squirrel Stronghold – risk of fragmenting the red squirrel habitat.
- Windblow is present throughout the LTP area.
- Cairngorms National Park: LTP may need to consider different policy objectives associated with national park status.
- The LTP area has access to agreed timber transport routes
- Unscheduled heritage features are present throughout the LTP area.
- Neighbouring woodland is adjacent to the LTP area. Discussion with neighbouring landowners concerning management is required to avoid adjacency issues.
- Inactive powerline wayleave.
- Lodgepole pine is present throughout the LTP area in mixtures – the LTP area has suffered from Dothistroma needle blight in the past and could present an issue in the future.
- Twinflower is present in the LTP area.
- Scheduled Monument: Newe's Craig Still must be kept open.
- Movern and Mullachdubh Site of Special Scientific Interest
- Movern and Mullachdubh Special Area of Conservation
- Herbivore browsing impact: Issue of deer and neighbouring sheep browsing restock sites due to the deteriorating fence condition.
- Areas of second rotation Sitka spruce appear to be suffering from check.
- The native broadleaved component is low across the LTP area and needs to be increased to meet the UKFS.
- A quarry expansion is required to facilitate planned operations.
- Potential Areas for Peatland Restoration.
- There is potential for flood risk management to reduce run off on Sloganbuian Burn, Deskry Water and Deuchrie Burn.
- The LTP area is situated in the Cairngorm Straths' Environmentally Sensitive Area.
- Larch present throughout the LTP area in mixtures - risk of Statutory Plant Health Notice in the future.
- Area of Long Established Woodland of plantation origin run across the northern strip of the block.
- ScotWays Right of Way: Windblow is impeding a section of this claimed route.

- Strathdon settlement looks onto LTP area.